

LEAGUE MOVES TO HALT ITALIAN WAR

Votes Sanctions by 51 to 3 Count

Austria and Hungary Join Italy in Voting Against Move; Laval and Eden Pledge Co-Operation of French and British.

GENEVA, Oct. 10.—By a vote of 51 nations to 3, one of which was Italy, the League of Nations assembly today concurred with the council in outlawing Italy as a covenant breaker, and forthwith set into motion the machinery of applying sanctions to halt the Ethiopian war.

Bulletins From Front

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 10.—Italian diplomatic relations, for months badly bent, and frequently reported broken, were finally actually severed today at 10:30 a. m.

With Italian troops occupying Ethiopian soil in three sectors since last week, Ato Tasfay Yagan, director of the ministry of Foreign Affairs, finally called on Count Vinci, the Italian minister, with a note formally asking him to depart.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Italians are pushing a large-scale advance on the Ogaden front in southeastern Ethiopia, Exchange Telegraph said today in an Addis Ababa dispatch. The offensive, said the report, is led by 16 airplanes that are heavily bombing the Abyssinian positions.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The newspaper Transigant in a story which carried no date today, said Italian forces had surrounded the Ethiopian holy city of Aksum but were as yet unable to dislodge the defenders from the heights.

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 10.—A renewed Italian drive on both the northern and southern Ethiopian fronts in which many Ethiopians were killed was reported in an official Ethiopian military communique today.

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 10.—History was repeating itself today as the hereditary Rases from remote parts of Ethiopia, whose fathers rallied to the aid of the ruler Menelik 40 years ago, brought their armies marching to help Emperor Haile Selassie fight invading Italians again.

LUXURY LINER'S MECHANIC FOUND

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 10.—The briny waters of Great Salt Lake today yielded the secret of the missing Standard Oil luxury liner and its three-man crew.

The burned and seared body of George A. Anderson of Alameda, Cal., mechanic of the ill-fated ship, removed from the chilly lake waters early today, was positively identified by Chris Schrotke, chief mechanic for the oil company and a long time friend of the missing man.

WOMAN TO LEAD SELASSIE ARMY

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Calling the Italian soldiers "effeminate" a woman, daughter of an Ethiopian chieftain, prepared to leave today for the war front at the head of 15,000 men.

Aloisi in Appeal

Directly replying to a last minute protest by Baron Pompeo Aloisi, who asked "justice for Italy" by making the league covenant "more flexible," Premier Laval firmly declared:

"The league covenant is our international law. It cannot be infringed upon, nor can we allow it to be feeble."

Laval's speech was as dramatic as it was brief. "I shall make only a short declaration," he said. "France will stand by her obligations."

"I said so before the council, and I repeat it before the assembly." While the council and assembly are working together in applying sanctions, however, said Laval, and Eden agreed, peace negotiations will continue.

"The French government is passionately attached to the principles of working for peace by seeking a solution through conciliation."

"This is a task for which I am sure assistance will not be lacking in this assembly." Capt. Eden then voiced the stand of the British cabinet, taken at its meeting yesterday.

He vigorously stressed the necessity for stopping further bloodshed.

"It is universally understood that the foreign policy of the British empire remains firmly based on its membership in the League of Nations, because we believe it is only by upholding this organization that peace can be maintained."

Facing Two Tasks

"The league has two tasks: First, to prevent war; Second, to stop war."

"The league is now faced with the latter task."

Haiti—Whose delegate hinted strongly of the racial implications of the Italo-Ethiopian struggle—Mexico, Switzerland, and the Soviet Union also spoke in support of the League's constitution.

The council adjourned until 4:05

Baughman, Show Man for 50 Years, Santa Claus to Orphans of County

By Franklin Kibler

There is one man in Circleville who doesn't wear white whiskers or a red suit, but he has played Santa Claus to Pickaway county's orphans for 20 years.

Back in 1915 this man called the superintendent of the Children's home and his conversation was something like this, "I have a good show on tonight that the children would enjoy. Bring them in and just make arrangements to bring them every week. They'll always be welcome as long as I have this theater."

Began As Bill Poster
This same man celebrates his golden anniversary this year in the show business, in which he started as a bill poster. He is Walker Baughman, owner and operator of the Grand Opera House.

Mr. Baughman's first job was with the management of Peck's hall operated over the Murphy store at Court and Main-sts. When shows were discontinued at Peck's hall, Mr. Baughman worked for the management of the old Warner hall, operated on W. Main-st on the south side between Seloto-st and Western-ave. When this theater went out of existence he moved over to the old Coliseum, where Wolf's livery barn is now located.

"The Fashion" First
Mr. Baughman posted the bills for the first show held in the Grand Opera House on Nov. 16, 1889 and he said the first show given was "The Fashion."

"To my recollection, the only living member in Circleville of the company that constructed the Grand Opera house is Harp Van Riper," Mr. Baughman said. I was

WON'T LET GIRL WED SLAYER

Norman Peacock

Helen Baker

Pleas of 24-year-old, orphaned Helen Baker to be allowed to marry Norman Peacock, 22, before the state sends him to death in the electric chair, went for naught when Sheriff George A. Lutz of Cincinnati, O., where the youth was being held, refused to grant the girl the request. "I see no reason why the marriage should be permitted when there can be no benefit to either," the sheriff replied to the girl's pleas that "I'd do anything" for the sweetheart who is to be executed on Jan. 16. Hope of the girl to marry her childhood sweetheart at the Ohio penitentiary, where the youth was to be taken, were temporarily dashed when Warden James Woodward at Columbus indicated that Ohio would not have its first death-house wedding. Peacock was convicted of killing Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hockfeld in a shoe store holdup.

GREECE CALLS SCHOOLS GET FOR MONARCHY $42,411.22

Tsaldaris Cabinet Overthrown as Return of King George is Seen

LONDON, Oct. 10.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens said martial law was proclaimed in the Greek capital today in the wake of the fall of the Tsaldaris cabinet.

Exchange Telegraph reported that after receiving a vote of confidence in the assembly this afternoon it is understood the new premier, General George Kondylis, will propose that the assembly abolish the republic and proclaim restoration of the Greek monarchy, establishing a regency council pending the return of former King George.

Restoration Near
Restoration of the ex-King appeared to be just around the corner. It has been reported in high government circles that Great Britain is backing the move for restoring the monarchy in Greece as a means of effecting stability in the eastern Mediterranean.

Greece is a key nation in the Mediterranean world, and Britain desires peace here in the event the Italo-Ethiopian war gets out of hand and produces Anglo-Italian tension in the Mediterranean.

Athens Quiet
Athens was peaceful as the change in government took place. Four army officers called upon Premier Tsaldaris and demanded that the monarchy be restored immediately by means of a decree approved by the national assembly.

While the interview was in progress, royalist demonstrations occurred at all Athens barracks, and soldiers affixed portraits of former King George to the walls and with cheers "Proclaimed Him King."

PRESIDENT'S SONS ESCAPE INJURIES

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—While an investigation was being made today into the automobile crash in which John and James Roosevelt, sons of the president, narrowly escaped death, John was receiving congratulations for his presence of mind in swerving the automobile down the tracks after it crashed through the narrow gage railroad gates at the Maverick street crossing in East Boston.

ESTATE CASE RULING NEAR

Court of Appeals to File Verdict in Two Weeks in Williams Estate

It was intimated today by Harry Grace, secretary for the district court of appeals, that the decision in the Williams estate case, appealed from Judge J. W. Adkins' court, will be handed down within the next two weeks.

Mr. Grace was reached at his office in Chillicothe. He said because the briefs and the record in the $100,000 case were so voluminous, and because many close points of law were brought into the case, the court had taken considerable time in its deliberations.

The action is entitled Alice Ward against Job R. Renick and others and involves considerable land and property in Jackson-twp, Pickaway-co, and in Marion-co.

It was taken to the court of appeals when Judge Adkins ruled in favor of a trust set up by Mary E. A. J. and Sarah E. Williams over a will written by the last survivor, Sarah E. Williams.

Judge Adkins' decision was filed with A. L. Wilder, court clerk, Nov. 16, 1934, and the appeals court heard it early last spring.

FRIEND OF SLAIN GIRL, 18, SOUGHT

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 10.—One of the boy friends of Muriel Hall, pretty 18-year-old high school girl found strangled in the living room of her home, was reported missing from his home today together with his automobile.

Police, who refused to name the youth, said he was the object of a wide search.

Teletype messages to state police barracks carried descriptions of the young man and the number of his car.

Only a finger nail mark on her neck betrayed how the brunette school girl had died when her father, Leonard I. Hall, business executive, found her body last night in the living room of his home in exclusive east end avenue. There was no sign of any struggle.

PASTOR, STUDENT SPEAK AT ROTARY

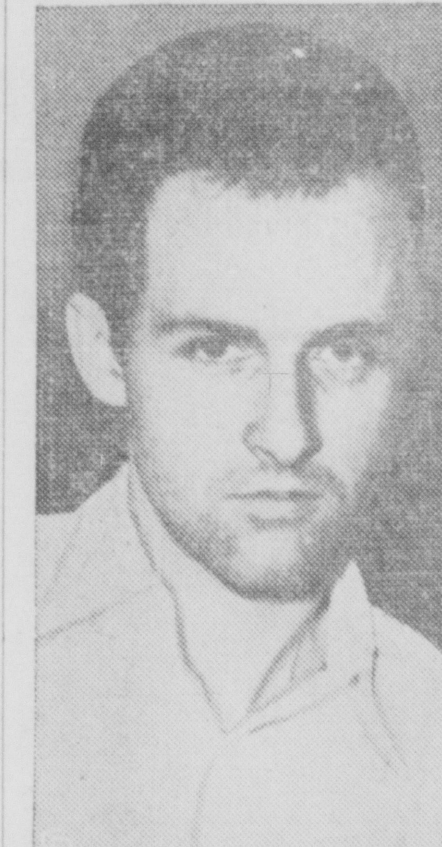

The talk of Rev. L. C. Sherrill at the Rotary meeting Thursday noon in which he stressed a more friendly spirit, not only at club meetings but in daily contacts with people, was followed by a talk by John Griffith, of the senior class of the Circleville High school, along the same lines.

Griffith was the first of the senior students who will attend three Rotary meetings and then give their impressions of Rotary. Saying that the Rotary club was a fine organization and is doing a good job for Circleville he said that the people of Circleville lack friendliness.

He suggested that the "Welcome Wagon" be started in Circleville such as is organized in other communities which consists of a committee from a club such as Rotary and make friends and be helpful to families moving into Circleville.

"Such a plan has been quite successful in other communities and should work here," he said.

WARDEN BALKS AT KILLING, QUILTS

Gerald Thompson

Warden Frank D. Whipp

Because he has become unnerved at each of the five executions at which he has officiated, Warden Frank D. Whipp, of the Joliet-Statesville prisons in Illinois, has submitted his resignation, effective one minute prior to the next scheduled execution. One minute after midnight, on Oct. 14, Gerald Thompson, 25-year-old Peoria slayer of Mildred Hallmark, 19-year-old cafe hostess, is scheduled to go to the electric chair. Warden Whipp, a veteran penologist, asserts: "I don't believe the punishment should fit the crime. That isn't any longer considered penology. The aim is to turn out men in condition to have a chance to re-enter society. Some criminals, however, should be locked up for life."

BOY, 6, VICTIM OF DIPHTHERIA

Floyd Fred Ford Dies; Health Officer Warns Against Spread of Disease

With Floyd Fred Ford, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Ford, 223 Logan-st, a victim of diphtheria after a week's illness, Health Officer William M. Justus today warned parents to keep their children from school at the first sign of a sore throat.

He reported a number of diphtheria cases within the city and urged parents to take the utmost precaution against the very contagious disease spreading.

The Ford child was born in this city Oct. 6, 1929, a son of Wilbert and Leona Delong Ford. Besides his parents he is survived by his maternal grandparents.

Death came at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday.

BARRYMORE'S WIFE WINS DIVORCE, CASH

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10.—"Good-bye and good luck."

Those words spoken over a telephone in August 1934, by John Barrymore, of the royal house of the stage, were the last direct communication the actor had with his beautiful wife, Dolores Costello, to be established today.

Miss Costello, in obtaining an uncontested divorce from Barrymore yesterday testified briefly concerning her charges of desertion and Judge Charles L. Bogue granted the decree.

A property settlement under which Barrymore will pay $850 monthly for support of his children was approved by the court.

Henry T. Price, attorney for Miss Costello announced community property interests had been settled equitably.

HOG PRICES REMAIN HIGH

Low Supply of Market Hogs Results in $11.50 Being Paid Here

The scarcity of market hogs in Pickaway-co was reflected Wednesday afternoon when the Farm bureau reported the lowest sale supply since the opening of the livestock sale barn.

Only 267 hogs were up for sale and the price was as high as $11.50. The average number of hogs sold weekly by the Farm bureau is 800.

Reports at the local office show all markets reported low volumes on hogs and high prices. Many farmers believe the market would break in September but present indications have caused them to set the date at Nov. 1.

MURDER OF TWO GIRLS ADMITTED

Michigan Farmer Tells of Drowning Stepchildren with Plowshares.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—"I did it to get rid of them. They were annoying my wife." They were annoying my wife, was the laconic comment of Ferris Rowland, police said today, as he confessed the shocking murder of his two small stepdaughters.

The Michigan farmer, police said, has confessed taking the children from their home near Harrison, Mich., on Sept. 17, driving them to Bloat lake, south of Flint, in his truck.

There, Chief of Detectives John Carroll quoted Rowland as admitting, Rowland placed the two girls—Katherine Woodin, 6, and her 2-year-old sister, Virginia—in a row boat, rowed out into deep water and dumped them overboard with a plowshare wired to their necks.

The girls, daughters of his wife by a former marriage made no outcry, Carroll quoted Rowland as saying:

"They made no outcry, but when I threw them overboard they clung to the boat."

"I rocked the boat until they sank and were drowned," Rowland confessed according to Carroll.

Rowland, sought by Michigan authorities since the children's disappearance, was arrested in a hotel room here yesterday. The arresting officers said the farmer pulled a gun from underneath his shirt and attempted to shoot himself as they entered the room.

He was traced here by a letter sent to his wife, Mrs. Woodin Rowland, who is being held in jail at Harrison.

DAVEY BALKED AS FINANCIERS STUDY BUDGET

House Committee in Refusal to Compromise; Ballot is 17 to 3

OHIO STATE NEEDY

Solons Meet at 10 a. m. to Revise Davey Bill.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—Governor Davey's proposal that a "non-punitive" investigating committee look into expenditures at Ohio State university if the biennial budget, pared sharply by the executive, is to be increased, today was accepted by President George W. Rightmire.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—The battle over the appropriation vetoes rapidly approached a new climax today with Gov. Martin L. Davey's offer for a compromise apparently discarded by an irate House Finance committee.

After listening to the state's chief executive for almost two hours, the House Finance group decided by a vote of 17 to 3 to revamp the entire appropriation bill. Ostensibly the decision of the committee was to rewrite the Transfer bill, offered by the Governor to alleviate the hardships caused by his veto actions, and defeated by the House last week, when 11 Democrats joined the Republican phalanx.

NAMED RIDICULOUS

In a page 1 editorial today, Pat J. Kirwin, editor of the Lantern, Ohio State university's daily publication, today attacked Gov. Davey's proposed investigation of the university as: "Insincere and ridiculous."

Must Rewrite Bill

Actually, however, the action of the committee will be to rewrite the bill, by considering all of the appropriations and the budgets, putting in increases or decreases in the appropriations as members see fit, providing funds for necessary functions, removed by the Governor's vetoes, and then let the Devil take the hindmost.

The temper of the committee suffered an about face after leaving the Governor's chambers. They had listened with deference to the proposal that in exchange for immediate passage of the transfer bill, the Governor would promise to approve additional appropriations for any department or University where the need was proved to his satisfaction.

"If the transfer bill is passed, there is no emergency," the Governor said.

22 PIGS BORN TO HOTT'S WHITE HOG

J. R. "Bob" Hoff, well known Scioto-twp farmer, believes a white sow he owns has established a record.

Last Monday night she farrowed 22 pigs, and all are living. Mr. Hoff was forced to take some of the pigs from their mother because she was not able to care for them.

The Herald trying to learn if 22 would be considered a record in this county interviewed a number of leading farmers, none of whom reported he had ever heard of more than 17 in any one litter.

At the price now being paid for hogs, Mr. Hoff, who is the senior Democratic member of the county board of elections and a former county commissioner, should reap a nice harvest.

32,202 MEN ON WPA JOBS THROUGH OHIO

1,032 in This District But
Pickaway-co Has Only
Nine on Such Work

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—WPA projects in 85 counties of Ohio are employing 32,202 workers, Charles C. Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio announced today. This was the first report on the number of men working and the number of projects started in the state from central headquarters at Columbus.

The report said that 1046 projects were in operation and during the week ending October 5, 149 new projects were started. In Ashland, Harrison and Holmes counties no projects have been started as yet.

The inequality in the distribution of projects thus far was apparent in the report. For example in Ashtabula county, populous and where relief needs are as acute as anywhere else in the state, only one project was started up to last week, and that project was employing only one man. Geauga county was another where only one worker was being employed on a single project. Fairfield-co, where direct relief ceased September 15, had only one WPA project in operation, employing 25 men.

The report showed that District number 11, which includes Pickaway-co, had 43 projects in operation, employing 1032 workers. Pickaway-co had one project started and nine men were on the job.

Meantime, budgetary allotments totalling $2,378,118 for direct relief during the last half of October were made today by the budget committee of the federal relief administration for Ohio. Liquidation of FERA units in 28 counties is being carried on, with eight more organizations scheduled to end activities October 15 and three more October 20. Butler, Morgan, Jackson, Fayette, Guernsey, Lorain, Pike and Van Wert counties will see the dole end there by October 15, and Clark, Ross and Gallia FERA units will be liquidated by the 20th of October. Pickaway-co's allotment for FERA Administrative expenses for the last half of October was set at $250.

After tasting of better defeat two different Fridays, the M H S boys finally surpassed their losing streak and defeated Scioto in the first game of a double-header played on the local diamond Friday.

Marion Collins (Two Gun) hurled brilliant ball as a starting pitcher in the first game and as a relief hurler in the second encounter.

"Dizzy" (Kenneth) Dean started the second encounter and received poor support so poor in fact he was "jerked" in favor of Two Gun Collins. However Dean redeemed his pitching by his terrific hitting: Hammering out a single, a triple and a home run in four trips up.

Woodrow Huffer, "Woody" to all that knew him was suddenly stricken last Sunday morning at about 5, and died while the members of the family slept.

The funeral was held Wednesday in the Darbyville M. E. church at 2 p. m. At that time the High School, 7 and 8 and 5 and 6 grades marched to the church in a body and then to the cemetery to pay tribute to a friend, classmate and pupil.

This week marks the end of the first six weeks of school. Six weeks tests will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week and grade cards will be out for the first time this year, next Wednesday.

Twenty-five pupils and several teachers had the time of their lives at the State-Kentucky last Saturday.

Since the day of primitive man fire has been his greatest servant; also his most deadly enemy. Because of the annual toll of lives and property loss caused by fire the week of October 6-12 has been set aside as Fire Prevention Week. Many of the most destructive fires have been caused by Carelessness, which is so characteristic of the American people that it might well be called a national sin. Thus it becomes the duty of each and every individual to have a knowledge of fire—its destructive as well as its beneficial powers. Let it be our slogan. Prevent Fires by carefulness!

Bernice Ward, a pupil of the eighth grade, has transferred to New Holland.

With the Pumpkin Show only a few days away, everyone is busy getting their exhibits finished. We are working on booklets and maps of South America.

The fifth grade has lost two of its members: Mary Jean Carter has moved to Circleville, and Max Ward has moved to the New Holland school district.

Billy Rohrer, a transfer from McGuffey School of Columbus, enrolled in our fifth grade last Tuesday, October 1.

The fifth and sixth grades are leading the seventh and eighth in a magazine subscription contest. The contest ends Wednesday, Oct. 9.

A fire drill was held yesterday in observance of fire prevention week. It took only fifty seconds for all the pupils to get out of the building. This was a great improvement over the last drill.

Third and Fourth Grade We were glad to welcome Dickie Rohrer last Tuesday in our school from Columbus School. This makes us a total of 34 pupils in third and fourth grades.

Wanna Brigner is absent with Scarlet Fever.

This is fire prevention week Monday we started the week out right by having a fire drill. Then we took five minutes each day to discuss fires. We discussed just what should be done in case some one else should get on fire, what should be done if you yourself should get on fire, and what should be done if the home should catch on fire. The pupils then told how fires can be caused by carelessness. The following statements were given and wrote on the board (by teachers):

1. Starting a fire on a windy day.
2. Starting a fire too near a building.
3. Children playing with matches.

Mussolini came into conflict with the law early in life. He himself wrote that jail is an essential experience in the life of a public man and he has had adequate experience. For a time, because of his radical ideas, he had to reside in Switzerland, but he was even expelled from that asylum of the oppressed, because of his tempestuous remarks. Later he went to Trentino, where he was active among Irredentists against the Austrian rule. In 1912 he was arrested for opposition to the Austrian war policy. In 1914 he was engaged in a revolutionary movement in Romagna and Tuscany, which resulted in the outbreaks of May and June of that year. In the above historic photo (which, characteristically he never tried to suppress) he is being arrested in Italy in 1915 by detectives who regarded him as an anarchist. He had approved an anti-government demonstration at Roccagorga in which many demonstrators and government troops were killed. At that time Mussolini was editor of the Socialist newspaper, Avanti, in Milan. His virulent pen had blown up its circulation from 40,000 to 100,000 in a few months.

Reddened hands—rough and lined from building fires, shoveling fuel, breaking clinkers and removing ashes. Certainly such hands detract from feminine charm.

Automatic gas heat eliminates this drudgery and greatly lessens necessary cleaning of home furnishings. All incidental expenses considered, the healthful temperatures of gas heat cost no more.

The JANITROL gas burner operates automatically. You don't even need a match to start it in the fall, and you can forget it until time to turn it off in the spring. There is a correct size and type to fit your furnace or boiler. It can be easily and quickly installed.

No Obligation To This Free Offer

Phone The Gas Company and request a free heating survey. A competent representative will call to inspect your home and heating plant. He will tell you what other homes of similar size as your own pay for gas heat and estimate its cost for your home. He will tell you the cost of converting your out-moded furnace into a modern gas-fired unit and explain our easy payment plan. May we give you these facts at once without any obligation on your part?

THE AGGRESSOR

IN AN HONEST survey of the facts no other course was open to the committee of six of the Council of the League of Nations but to report that Italy resorted to war in violation of Article XII of the league covenant. That article says that members agree in the event of "any dispute likely to lead to a rupture" they will submit to "arbitration or judicial settlement, or to inquiry by the council." In no case, it is solemnly agreed, shall a member go to war until three months after the award of the arbitrators, the judicial decision or the opinion of the council.

Italy flouted all three means set up to adjudicate disputes without resort to war. She is today at war with Ethiopia, as was recognized by the twelve-man committee of the whole council. That fact established, the league must deal with her in such manner as to command world respect.

Sanctions that are no deterrent to the vigorous prosecution of Italy's war of conquest, or that come so late as to leave Italy in possession of Ethiopia in advance of their pronouncement, would make a failure of the league as an instrumentality for peace. Undoubtedly, though, there are members of the league assembly only too anxious to have nothing interfere with their vital trade with that country. Some of these same nations, like Yugoslavia, Poland and Austria, are in a dilemma as to their course because of their desire to have it stressed that small nations shall not be the prey of big military powers.

President Roosevelt's warning that Americans "abstain from traveling on any vessel of either of the belligerent nations"—Ethiopia has none—is a blow at Italy. It is none the less that from the fact that this action was ordered by joint resolution of the congress if he felt they would be in danger. But from what source does he look for that danger? Not from Ethiopia, certainly. He went further than congress in asserting that any of our people who voluntarily engage in transactions of any character with either of the belligerents do so at their own risk.

The test of our position, however, will not come unless our trade with Italy in cotton, copper, etc., is affected. It is not the president's proclamation itself that is so important as is the consequences flowing from it.

VETS NOT NEGLECTED

THAT the government is not forgetful of its citizens who participated in the World War has been indicated in various ways, despite efforts sometimes made to prove the contrary.

One of the latest demonstrations of the benevolent spirit of the nation is revealed in the statement of Brigadier General Frank E.
Hines made a day or two ago to the Association of Military Surgeons that more than two-thirds of the ex-service men receiving hospital care are suffering from maladies not connected with service.

Uncle Sam surely cannot be charged with a stingy attitude in dealing with the old soldiers.

It will be interesting to learn whether the "Doshay's" theory that men are only animals anyway and have no rights save the right to salute him, can be extended beyond the borders of Italy.

Zomotherapy Is Treatment By a Diet of Meat Juice

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

VEGETABLES and fruits being the only things that a modern dietitan can regard as healthy, it comes as a kind of shock to remember that there is one system of diet which claims to be valuable simply because it excludes vegetables and fruits entirely and consists in the use of meat juices.

Although it may not necessarily be recommended, nor can it be guaranteed that it will do all that is claimed for it, still it is worth while to describe it just to keep the balance level. The vegetarians have been having it all their own way of late years.

The meat juice treatment—called zomotherapy—was introduced by Professor Charles Richet in 1900, and was based on the successful results of feeding dogs which had been infected with tuberculosis. Fuster had recommended raw meat and alcohol for tuberculosis as far back as 1865.

Virtue in Juice

Subsequent experiments indicated that the virtues of the raw meat side in the meat juice and not in the fibres. Furthermore, the beneficial results are not due to excessive food intake or stuffing because they can be obtained from a daily dose of half a glass to a glass (50-100 c. c.) of meat juice.

While not used very extensively in this country for anything, zomotherapy is considerably used in England and the continent for anemia, neurasthenia, latent or incipient tuberculosis and during convalescence.

The juice should be obtained fresh by expression from raw beef or Car-nine Lefrancq. Carine Lefrancq is the juice of raw beef concentrated in a vacuum. A tablespoon represents the amount of juice in three ounces of raw meat.

Beef extracts are not as nutritious as might be supposed, however, their pleasant and "health-giving" taste coming mostly from the extractives, which give flavor but have little or no nutritive value. However, ordinary freshly pressed beef juice contains about 6 per cent protein and 4 per cent extractives.

NOTES BY NOTABLES

Questions and Answers, as my former colleague, Dr. Evans, answered them:

"C. N. writes: I have corns or calluses under both feet and am certainly going crazy, so I wonder if you wouldn't prescribe something for me, so that I will be able to get rid of them?"

Reply: "Why go crazy when there are so many better things to do?
Wearing broad shoes is better. So is applying moleskin or adhesive."

"Old men bear want of food best;
then those that are younger youth bears it least, most especially children, and of them the most lively are the least capable of enduring it."—

The Romance Racket

MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Fun, parties, pretty clothes and beaux are things unattractive Carol Kennedy had never desired until she looked into the eyes of Dr. Owen Craig, fiancé of her cousin, Kathy Preston. Kathy is marrying Owen for social prestige alone. When Carol, an orphan, comes into a vast fortune, she suddenly decides to leave her old home in Connecticut and seek freedom and happiness in New York. Isabel Bronson, an old school chum, helps Carol to buy proper clothes and takes her to her first cocktail party where she meets Gary Crandall, a playboy. Acting on a whim, he takes her to a beauty shop from which she emerges an attractive girl. Knowing nothing of her wealth, he helps her to meet Manfred Morris, theatrical producer, who gives her a part in a Broadway show. But Carol does not care for the theater. At Isabel's wedding she sees Owen Craig again just as Gary proposes marriage. Kathy calls on Carol to say she is going abroad.
Morris sends Carol the script for a new play which she is reading when Owen drops in. Kathy is in Europe and Owen and Carol spend a pleasant evening in her apartment.
(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 22

"YOU'RE IN LUCK," Owen said on the telephone, "that is, if you haven't changed your mind since last night. This morning I ran into Len Harding—he's a neurologist—and he asked me if I could recommend a good girl to take care of his office for the summer. His office nurse is taking a long leave of absence and he doesn't need a trained nurse. Think you'd like to see about it?"

"I certainly would," Carol answered quickly. "Of course, you realize I don't know the first thing about the work and I'm not a trained secretary but if he doesn't require experience,
I would like to see him."

"Good. He's in my building. It's the Professional Building, just off Madison. I'll give him a ring and tell him you're coming in this afternoon. By the way, since your theatrical experience will have nothing to do with the job, just don't mention it."

"I feel as though that were entirely unrel and I had forgotten it until you mentioned it," she told him.
"Well, good luck and let me know what happens. It was a jolly evening last night. Thank you again."

He rang off.
She wanted to ask him to come again. She didn't for two reasons:
While she believed that surely such an innocent friendship could not hurt Kathy (and Kathy had said for her to be good to Owen), she felt for her own sake it would be better to bring such stolen happiness to an abrupt end before she had created memories that would be hard to banish.

Instinctively, she felt also that the guilt between herself and Owen would be greater should she be lucky enough to obtain the position he had told her of. There were social worlds between doctors and nurses for all that they were so closely allied in their profession.

Carol smiled to think how readily
she had accepted herself as a nurse.
She wouldn't even be that, she knew.
She wouldn't even be a secretary
but a substitute sort of maid. Her heart beat a little faster in anticipation. She wouldn't mind working early and late. Here was something that she really anticipated.

The play script on the mantle caught her eye. She looked at it relishfully. "Some girls would have been mad with joy at such a chance," she said aloud to it, "but I guess I'm not that way and there's no use crying over something like that.
Some other girl will get a good chance that will really mean something to her."

Carol sent the script back to Morris with a note thanking him for letting her have the opportunity to read it and saying that she didn't feel it was the part for her.

"Listen, Bernhard," he said to her on the phone when he received it.
"don't you dare get temperamental with me. What sort of a play do you want?"

Carol found it hard to explain to him that she didn't want any play.

She wanted to ask him to come again.

that while she appreciated all that he had done for her, she did not feel happy in the theater and she thought that she ought to leave before she made it uncomfortable and unpleasant for others.

"Let me worry about that," Morris said to her, "and let me take you to dinner tonight."
It was hard to say no to him. He had been so good to her and with the exception of that scene in the garden, she could find no good reason why she shouldn't see him. As for Carla Hillman's threat, Carol paid no attention to it, but remembering that first scene, she declined, pleading a previous engagement.

Whenever she thought of Manfred Morris, she felt hot blushes on her throat where he had kissed her.
Morris was the first man who had ever kissed Carol but she was worldly-wise enough to know that that was not the way she wanted to be kissed. She wondered why Gary had never tried to kiss her. She didn't know that her always-present cool detachment was both a barrier and a come-on. Had Carol been the slightest bit different from what she was, Gary Crandall would never have been so intrigued with her, would never have wanted to "possess" her, never have proposed to her.

She thought of him now and wished that he were back from his long trip. She needed Gary to make her forget last night. When she was with him, she always had fun, he was amusing. The remembrance of his words came back to her as she used that word unconsciously. These weeks of loneliness had done much to press Gary's suit for her.
Carol smiled to think how readily
she had accepted herself as a nurse.
She wouldn't even be that, she knew.
She wouldn't even be a secretary
but a substitute sort of maid. Her heart beat a little faster in anticipation. She wouldn't mind working

Poems That Live

A SONG

Sing me a sweet, low song of night Before the moon is risen.

A song that tells of the stars' de-light

Escaped from day's bright pris-on,

A song that croons with the cricket's voice,

That sleeps with the shadowed trees,

A song that shall bid my heart re-joice

At its tender mysteries!

And then when the song is ended,

—Ere dawn your head unto me,

Whisper the word that was born above

Ere the moon had swayed the sea:

Ere the oddest star began to shine,

Or the furthest sun to burn—

The oldest of words, O heart of mine,

Yet newest, and sweet to learn,

About This And That In Many Sports

Close Ohio State? Don't let anyone put funny stories into your head that Ohio State university is going to be closed—Things just aren't being done that way—the threat to close the school may have come from several sources, and the finances of the N. High school are in dire straits, but Mr. Davey isn't going to let several hundred thousand football fans sit at home on Saturday afternoons the remainder of this fall and listen to dear old Siwash play Pumpkin Center—It's Ohio State they're interested in and it's Ohio State they'll see and hear.

Many Major Shifts Many shifts will be seen in the big league ball clubs during the coming winter.

Klein on Block The Cubs are expected to put Chuck Klein on the block to learn what they can obtain—Cardinals seek more outfield power. Giants are after a first sacker, Dodgers need a lot of things and the Boston Braves need so many additions one would not know where to start—Pittsburgh is in the market for a catcher and want Rolfe Hemley of St. Louis—Boston wants some of Connie Mack's stars, and the White Sox and Browns want pitchers.

Owen nor Clifton Over in the American league, Detroit wants a third sacker believing neither Owen nor Clifton can fill the slot—Joe McCarthy is ready for a real housecleaning at New York, and the Cleveland Indians, powerful everywhere else, need a catcher and want Rolfe Hemley of St. Louis—Boston wants some of Connie Mack's stars, and the White Sox and Browns want pitchers.

Wes Ferrell Signs Three members of the Tigers team, Rowe, Gehring and Bridges are joining Dizzy Dean and his entourage on a barnstorming tour—Wes Ferrell, former Indian holdout, has already signed his 1936 contract with Boston—It was necessary for Prexy Navin of the Tigers to send out 49,000 "we regret" cards to unsuccessful ticket seekers—Jewish friends of Hank Greenberg are planning to petition Judge Landis to have Yom Kippur, sacred Jewish holiday, declared an open date in the world's get-together schedule should the Tigers make it.

New Head Coach

Clem Crowe Following the resignation of Joe Meyer as head football coach and athletic director at St. Xavier university, above, line coach since 1932, became head coach. Meyer's resignation note to school officials gave no reason for quitting, but it was believed faculty friction brought about the action. Crowe was captain and All-American of the Notre Dame team of 1925.

SPEARS FACES TEAM TROUBLE AT WISCONSIN

Several Called Meeting for General Walkout; Tommerson to Return

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10.—That there is dissension in the varsity ranks at the University of Wisconsin was verified today when 40 members of the football squad indirectly admitted certain players planned a walkout. The statement read:

"Contrary to an article to the effect that certain members of the Wisconsin football team gathered in a protest meeting, rebelling against Dr. Spears, and considered quitting the squad, we the undersigned have no intention of quitting, are behind Coach Spears to a man, and have all intentions of doing our level best on the football field."

Considered Quitting Five members of the team, it was learned, met and considered a general walkout as the result of the action of Clarence Tommerson, varsity quarterback.

Tommerson announced he "was tired of it all, and didn't want to play any more," after receiving what he believed undue criticism from backfield Coach Guy Sundt on his play in the game last Saturday when Marquette handed the Badgers a 33 to 0 beating.

Today, however, after a talk with his parents and with Sundt, Tommerson said he would be back in uniform for the practice session this afternoon.

Quit Last Year

Doc Spears experienced similar difficulties last season when three members of his squad, Bill Miller, Eddie Jankowski and Walter Windecker turned in their suits.

Coach Spears took cognizance of the criticism being directed at him by denying reports he planned to resign at the end of the season. "It's all news to me," he said. "I haven't even thought of the matter. I'm too busy trying to get a team ready to play Notre Dame here Saturday."

FRICK MAY FACE LEAGUE DISPUTE

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—There seems to be more than a vague hint that Ford C. Frick will find himself under fire when he comes up against a renewal of his contract late this year as president of the National League. Not a broadside, perhaps; maybe not a fusillade or even a volley. At the moment, in fact, it looks more like some desultory sniping from the rooftops.

HAMRICK IS OUT OF OHIO LINEUP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—Charley Hamrick, Ohio State's 245-pound tackle, today appeared definitely out as a starter in the Drake contest here Saturday.

Hamrick, although in uniform yesterday, did not participate in the Bucks' drill because of a leg injury. Coach Francis Schmidt switched Gil Harre from right tackle to the left side of the line and placed Ernie Roush at right tackle. Roush had been dividing the right tackle duties with Harre who started the Kentucky game.

The Buckeyes were sent through a lengthy signal drill. Schmidt handed his charges a few new plays.

Layden and Shakespeare to Help Restore Notre Dame Prestige

Francis (Mike) Layden

Restoration of Notre Dame's power on the gridiron may be accomplished this year, according to reports from the South Bend campus, and Francis (Mike) Layden and Bill Shakespeare, halfbacks, are named as important factors in bringing that about. Layden, young brother of Coach Elmer Layden, is regular right halfback. Shakespeare is a splendid runner, kicker and passer.

Minnesota Should Take Nebraska, and Iowa Will Beat Colgate, Is Forecast of Michigan Mentor

By HARRY KIPKE Football Coach, University of Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 10.—Midwest teams will be playing next Saturday on the Atlantic coast, on the Pacific coast and in their own ballfields. And in eleven games to be discussed here, there will be three of unusual interest. Incidentally they should be mighty interesting ball games, too.

The battle of Lincoln between Minnesota and Nebraska, the contest out in Los Angeles when Illinois tangles with Southern California, and that game at Iowa City where Colgate will be entertained by Ossie Solem's Hawkeyes, are the three. Of course that leaves out of consideration the game most important to me—and which is the only contest of the day in which two Big Ten teams will tangle—the Indiana-Michigan game, at Ann Arbor. You know just how large that event looms to me, so we'll let it go at that and give the palm to the other games, all of them intersectional in character.

All eyes will be on the game at Nebraska when last year's national champions go into their first big contest of the year. Nebraska seems headed for another Missouri Valley conference flag, so this of giants has a distinct intersectional flavor.

Nebraska has been impressive in its games to date, taking Chicago and Iowa State into camp with ease on successive Saturdays to start the season. Neither of those teams are set-ups. The big Gophers, on the other hand, were not particularly brilliant in their only game to date. People are beginning to wonder whether the loss of all those stars from the 1934 eleven has really taken the power out of the Minnesota machine.

Playing the game in the back lot of the Nebraska boys is not going to make the job the easier for Bierman's warriors. In other words, all the dope seems to point to a Cornhusker victory. But that does not mean that I think they are going to win. Minnesota had a day off last Saturday, but I'll wager the boys weren't all sitting around the radio listening to the world's series. They were more probably out on the gridiron doing a whole lot of getting ready. Bierman had four or five great eleven last year. They can't all be gone. Minnesota should still be a powerful team, so I string along with our Big Ten mates to cop this important game.

They'll See Football If I weren't scheduled to be out at the Michigan stadium next Saturday I'd like to be in Los Angeles—and not entirely on account of the climate. There's going to be a real game in that stadium out there. The Californians should win all right, but they will see a lot of football while they're doing it.

The long trip, the change in weather and all other factors against coast invaders, will be just a few of the handicaps encountered even before the Illinois get into the game.

Zuppke's men looked good last Saturday after a bad start in their first game. They will miss Lindbergh sadly, but this fellow Henry seems to be tossing forward capably. Illinois will need the breaks—and a lot of them—to win; but you never know what is going to happen in this game of football.

And then there is that Iowa-Colgate affair. Andy Keer's boys have had the dopesters blinking in their opening games—in other words, they have been good. They

Gabby's Grid Guesses

By GABBY GIBBS Famed Football Player and Herald Comic Strip Hero

WELL, SIR, "upset" Satiddy has come and gone and your old pal excepted perty good. I picked 22 winners and only missed out on eight games. For the season that gives me 43 correct guesses and only 11 bad ones for a percentage of .796. Not bad, not bad.

Here are next Satiddy's big games. I've put the winners first: Alabama-Mississippi State. Alabama Poly-Tennessee. Army-Gettysburg. Brown-Springfield. California-Oregon. Carnegie Tech-New York. Chicago-Kalamazoo. Columbia-Rutgers. Dartmouth-Bates. Georgia-Furman. Harvard-Holy Cross. Indiana-Michigan. Iowa-Colgate. Kentucky-Georgia Tech. Louisiana-Manhattan. Minnesota-Nebraska. Navy-Virginia. North Carolina-Maryland. Notre Dame-Wisconsin. Ohio State-Drake. Pennsylvania-Yale. Pittsburgh-West Virginia. Princeton-Williams. Purdue-Fordham. Southern California-Illinois. Tulane-Florida. Utah-Montana State. Washington State-Montana.

won handily last Saturday from a capable St. Lawrence team. Colgate seems destined to have a 1935 eleven that will rank with its other great eleven. But Captain Crayne and Ozzie Simmons can do a lot of ball-toting. Ask South Dakota about that. If Iowa comes out on top in this game—and I have a suspicion that it will—you can mark the Hawkeyes down for similar accomplishments as the season gets along.

Ohio State should be able to breeze through the Drake game. Kentucky is a tough eleven this year and while Schmidt had to keep his regulars in pretty nearly the whole game in order to beat the Colonels, his title chasers had plenty on the ball.

Purdue beat Fordham last year, and should do the same again. For the eastern boys under Jimmie Crowley haven't been particularly impressive this far.

Another for Wisconsin Northwestern is going to have a rest this week, after the defeat at the hands of Purdue, but there will be no rest for the luckless fellows up at Wisconsin. Things are getting no better up there, rapidly.

For Notre Dame will invade Madison, and Doc Spears' third defeat of the season is in the offing. Marquette romped all over the Badgers last Saturday and if they don't get overconfident they should do things to Kansas State next Friday night. On the same evening the University of Detroit will be taking on the Oklahoma Aggies and it should be another Detroit victory.

After last Saturday I would pick Michigan State to beat almost anybody. Kansas, however, is good enough to score an upset if the State boys get too confident.

And because of what our boys learned from State last Saturday I look for a good game in Ann Arbor with Indiana as the opposition.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

VARSITY LINE IS SHAKEN UP FOR DELAWARE

McGinnis Off Squad; Melson Sent to End, Weaver and Good to Tackle Berths

Delaware's varsity may face an untied line and a veteran backfield Friday when the Tigers travel to the college town for a Central Buckeye league game.

Coach Jack Landrum, from the appearance of the squad Wednesday evening, will use not more than two and possibly one senior in his starting line while the backfield will be comprised entirely of upper-classmen.

McGinnis Off Squad Johnny McGinnis, senior center, has left the squad and his place will probably be taken by Rich Weldon. It is also possible that Junior Ruff, a senior, may get the center call.

At the guards will be two juniors, Merriman and Atkins, and at tackle will also be two juniors, Toar Weaver and Millard Good. The ends will probably find Melson and Jackson starting with "Stringbean" Smith, tackling colored youth, ready to take a crack at either wing. Bob Fickard will also be ready and so will Hosler. Melson is the only senior in the game.

Henry on Cane Don Henry, lefthanded junior back, is the only regular who will not be able to start because of his injuries. His left ankle injury has forced him to remain on a cane all this week.

The starters will be Will Friley at quarter, George Rader, John Jenkins and John Griffith.

Delaware's starting lineup will probably be: Shipps and Fuller at ends; Turney and McKenzie at tackles; Miller and Longhenry at guards; Farahay at center; Cartwright at quarter; Patrick and Wyss at halves, and Vandervort at fullback.

DRAKE HOPEFUL OF OSU UPSET

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 10.—Scrimmaging hard, and with hopes flying at a high peak, the Drake varsity is working overtime in hopes of pulling an upset when the Bulldogs meet Buckeyes Saturday at Columbus. The Bulldogs are preparing their defense against the famed Ohio spinners, by scrimmaging the freshmen who have prepared the Ohio plays.

In the meantime, they have also smoothed out their aerial attack which has been the terror of the midwest during the past few weeks. With only one vital change in the Drake lineup the team will start as it has in the last two games, George (Wimpy) Setrakian, who played a great game against Simpson, will likely start the game Saturday. Seemingly Setrakian has overcome his one fault that has held him back during the season. After getting past the line of scrimmage, Wimpy had a hard time keeping his feet, but it looks as though Coach Green had ironed out that fault.

Enthusiasm has been running high on the campus, because of the splendid showing against Simpson and Central in scoring decisive victories in both games. This compared with Ohio's poor showing against Kentucky last week, does not make victory look impossible.

BOY, GIRL SCOUTS OHIO STATE GUESTS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—When the Drake and Ohio State university football teams line up Saturday at Ohio Stadium several thousand youngsters will be in the stands cheering for the Bucks.

The University athletic association has invited all Boy and Girl Scouts in the state to be its guests at this contest. While it will be impossible for every scout to attend, officials estimate that several thousand will take advantage of the invitation.

Admission will be by Scout registration card only. These cards are to be presented at the North entrance of the stadium sometime between 12:30 and game time.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

ADMITS POISONING FRIEND'S WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Creighton and Everett Applegate

Mrs. Frances Creighton of Baldwin, L. I., who, according to authorities, has confessed poisoning Mrs. Ada Applegate so that her 15-year-old daughter, Ruth, could marry the dead woman's husband, Everett Applegate, is shown with her husband, above. The Applegates and Creightons lived together. The men were American Legion "buddies". Applegate, inset, has been held on a statutory charge involving the Creightons daughter.

Votes Sanctions

p. m., when it will hear the representatives of Ethiopia and Chile.

After Austria and Hungary served notice yesterday that their economic interests and friendship with Italy were more important than the League covenant, and therefore they voted against sanctions, no other voice was heard today in support of Italy.

Switzerland, however, asked special exemption from applying either economic or military sanctions, and such nations as Poland, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, and Albania are expected to ask exemptions in varying degree from the joint coordinating sanctions.

The strongest speech yet heard in the assembly room was that of General Nemours of Haiti.

Warning that "what the league does now will create a precedent for the future," the colored speaker said "the situation is perfectly clear, and Haiti will back the league."

"The same red blood runs from a wounded man, whether he be black or white," he went on. "Haiti, a small republic of colored people, symbolizes the equality of the races."

Stating Russia would "honor her engagements," Ambassador Poyemkine urged "unity of action as the best means to liquidate the conflict, which harms all states and menaces humanity."

The Mexican delegate said his country "associates itself with this action, and hopes that the league, by collective measures, will end the African conflict."

PLACED ON PROBATION

William Coates, Williamsport, recently sentenced to 60 days in the Cincinnati workhouse on a charge of non-support by H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, has been placed on probation, Mr. Eveland announced Thursday morning.

ernor told the committee. "Then if investigation proves that additional funds are needed by a state university or by any department, I will go along."

Three Vote "No"

This proposal was speedily shoved aside for the plan to revamp the bill and this course of action was adopted, with only three members, Rep. Henry R. Cordes, (R) of Cincinnati, Rep. B. L. Cressy, of Ashland, and Rep. Henry M. Metcalf (R), Columbus, voting "no."

The occasion for these meetings was the report that Ohio State university cannot continue to run for more than eight or ten days without additional funds. Gov. Davey slashed more than one million and a quarter dollars from the appropriations for OSU, but defended his action by pointing out that the University even after the veto, was receiving $172,000 more than it spent during the past two years.

Proposed Inquiry

In a letter to President George Rightmire, the Governor proposed that a committee be named by Mr. Davey investigate conditions at OSU, examine expenditures and needs, and determine in recommendations to him, whether additional funds are necessary. No reply from President Rightmire to this proposal has been received as yet.

The House Finance committee was met today at 10 a. m. and begin consideration of a new bill. However, their work may be for nothing in event that the House proper decides not to reconsider the bill. Leaders expressed conviction that the House would reconsider the bill and send it back to the Finance committee.

Baughman Show Man

told this theater cost about $18,000 to build at that time. Think what it would cost to construct a similar building now.

"The opera house changed hands many times in the years following its construction until 1911 when I leased it for five years. I bought the theater in 1916. The first motion pictures were shown in 1913."

Recalls Best Joke

One of the best jokes ever "pulled" in the theater, according to Mr. Baughman, was the act of a workman years ago when the show "The Naiad Queen" was sponsored by the local Episcopal church.

Fixtures and tools for the scenery were sent in by the company in a large steel enforced trunk. A large group of men, helping in the church production, had assembled at the theater to erect the scenery. One of the workmen opened the trunk and thoughtlessly put the key inside and closed the top. A locksmith opened the trunk the following day and up until the time of the first act hammers were banging backstage. Aside from his record in the show business in Circleville Mr. Baughman has been an active worker in many lodges, social organizations and in civic activities. Mr. Baughman was born and reared in Circleville and his birth date is in the year 1871.

The Herald congratulates Mr. Baughman on his golden anniversary in the theater business in Circleville.

Baughman, Show Man for 50 Years, Santa Claus to Orphans of County

By Franklin Kibler
There is one man in Circleville who doesn't wear white whiskers or a red suit, but he has played Santa Claus to Pickaway county's orphans for 20 years.

Back in 1915 this man called the superintendent of the Children's home and his conversation was something like this, "I have a good show on tonight that the children would enjoy. Bring them in and just make arrangements to bring them every week. They'll always be welcome as long as I have this theater."

Michigan Farmer Tells of Drowning Stepchildren with Plover-shares.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—"I did it to get rid of them. They were annoying my wife," was the laconic comment of Ferris Rowland, police said today, as he confessed the shocking murder of his two small stepdaughters.

The Michigan farmer, police said, has confessed taking the children from their home near Harrison, Mich., on Sept. 17, driving them to Bloat lake, south of Flint, in his truck.

There, Chief of Detectives John Carroll quoted Rowland as admitting, Rowland placed the two girls, Katherine Woolfin, 6, and her 2-year-old sister, Virginia—in a row boat, rowed out into deep water and dumped them overboard with a plover-shares wired to their necks.

The girls, daughters of his wife by a former marriage made no outcry, Carroll quoted Rowland as saying.

"They made no outcry, but when I threw them overboard they clung to the boat."

"I rocked the boat until they sank and were drowned," Rowland confessed according to Carroll.

Rowland, sought by Michigan authorities since the children's disappearance, was arrested in a hotel room here yesterday. The arresting officers said the farmer pulled a gun from underneath his shirt and attempted to shoot himself as they entered the room.

He was traced here by a letter sent to his wife, Mrs. Woodin Rowland, who is being held in jail at Harrison.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—The battle over the appropriation vetoes rapidly approached a new climax today with Gov. Martin L. Davey's offer for a compromise apparently discarded by an irate House Finance committee.

32,202 MEN ON WPA JOBS THROUGH OHIO

1,032 in This District But
Pickaway-co Has Only
Nine on Such Work

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10—WPA projects in 85 counties of Ohio are employing 32,202 workers. Charles C. Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio announced today. This was the first report on the number of men working and the number of projects started in the state from central headquarters at Columbus.

The report said that 1046 projects were in operation and during the week ending October 5, 149 new projects were started. In Ashland, Harrison and Holmes counties no projects have been started as yet.

The inequality in the distribution of projects thus far was apparent in the report. For example in Ashtabula county, populous and where relief needs are as acute as anywhere else in the state, only one project was started up to last week, and that project was employing only one man. Geauga county was another where only one worker was being employed on a single project. Fairfield-co, where direct relief ceased September 15, had only one WPA project in operation, employing 25 men.

The report showed that District number 11, which includes Pickaway-co, had 43 projects in operation, employing 1032 workers. Pickaway-co had one project started and nine men were on the job.

Meantime, budgetary allotments totalling $2,378,118 for direct relief during the last half of October were made today by the budget committee of the federal relief administration for Ohio. Liquidation of FERA units in 28 counties is being carried on, with eight more organizations scheduled to end activities October 15 and three more October 20. Butler, Morgan, Jackson, Fayette, Guernsey, Lorain, Pike and Van Wert counties will see the dole end there by October 15, and Clark, Ross and Gallia FERA units will be liquidated by the 20th of October. Pickaway-co's allotment for FERA Administrative expenses for the last half of October was set at $250.

Since the day of primitive man fire has been his greatest servant; also his most deadly enemy. Because of the annual toll of lives and property loss caused by fire the week of October 6-12 has been set aside as Fire Prevention Week. Many of the most destructive fires have been caused by Carelessness, which is so characteristic of the American people that it might well be called a national sin. Thus it becomes the duty of each and every individual to have a knowledge of fire—its destructive as well as its beneficial powers. Let it be our slogan. Prevent Fires by carefulness!

5th and 6th Grades
With the Pumpkin Show only a few days away, everyone is busy getting their exhibits finished. We are working on booklets and maps of South America.

The fifth grade has lost two of its members: Mary Jean Carter has moved to Circleville, and Max Ward has moved to the New Holland school district.

Billy Rohrer, a transfer from McGuffey School of Columbus, enrolled in our fifth grade last Tuesday, October 1.

The fifth and sixth grades are leading the seventh and eighth in a magazine subscription contest. The contest ends Wednesday, Oct. 9.

A fire drill was held yesterday in observance of fire prevention week. It took only fifty seconds for all the pupils to get out of the building. This was a great improvement over the last drill.

Third and Fourth Grade
We were glad to welcome Dickie Rohrer last Tuesday in our school from Columbus School. This makes us a total of 34 pupils in third and fourth grades. Wanna Brigner is absent with Scarlet Fever.

This is fire prevention week Monday we started the week out right by having a fire drill. Then we took five minutes each day to discuss fires. We discussed just what should be done in case some one else should get on fire, what should be done if you yourself should get on fire, and what should be done if the home should catch on fire. The pupils then told how fires can be caused by carelessness. The following statements were given and wrote on the board (by teachers.)

- Fires are caused by:
1. Starting a fire on a windy day.
 2. Starting a fire too near a building.
 3. Children playing with matches.
 4. Looking for things in the

BENITO MUSSOLINI —HIS RISE TO POWER

No. 2

Mussolini came into conflict with the law early in life. He himself wrote that jail is an essential experience in the life of a public man and he has had adequate experience. For a time, because of his radical ideas, he had to reside in Switzerland, but he was even expelled from that asylum of the oppressed, because of his tempestuous remarks. Later he went to Trentino, where he was active among Irredentists against the Austrian rule. In 1912 he was arrested for opposition to the Austrian war policy. In 1914 he was engaged in a revolutionary movement in Romagna and Tuscany, which resulted in the outbreaks of May and June of that year. In the above historic photo (which, characteristically he never tried to suppress) he is being arrested in Italy in 1915 by detectives who regarded him as an anarchist. He had approved an anti-government demonstration at Roccaforte in which many demonstrators and government troops were killed. At that time Mussolini was editor of the Socialist newspaper, Avanti, in Milan. His virulent pen had blown up its circulation from 40,000 to 100,000 in a few months.

Reddened hands—rough and lined from building fires, shoveling fuel, breaking clinkers and removing ashes. Certainly such hands detract from feminine charm.

Automatic gas heat eliminates this drudgery and greatly lessens necessary cleaning of home furnishings. All incidental expenses considered, the healthful temperatures of gas heat cost no more.

The JANITROL gas burner operates automatically. You don't even need a match to start it in the fall, and you can forget it until time to turn it off in the spring. There is a correct size and type to fit your furnace or boiler. It can be easily and quickly installed.

No Obligation To This Free Offer

Phone The Gas Company and request a free heating survey. A competent representative will call to inspect your home and heating plant. He will tell you what other homes of similar size as your own pay for gas heat and estimate its cost for your home. He will tell you the cost of converting your out-moded furnace into a modern gas-fired unit and explain our easy payment plan. May we give you these facts at once without any obligation on your part?

About This And That In Many Sports

Close Ohio State? Don't let anyone put funny stories into your head that Ohio State university is going to be closed. Things just aren't being done that way. The threat to close the school may have come from several sources, and the finances of the N. High-at school are in dire straits, but Mr. Davey isn't going to let several hundred thousand football fans sit at home on Saturday afternoons the remainder of this fall and listen to dear old Siwash play Pumpkin Center. It's Ohio State they're interested in and it's Ohio State they'll see and hear.

Many Major Shifts Many shifts will be seen in the big league ball clubs during the coming winter.

Klein on Block The Cubs are expected to put Chuck Klein on the block to learn what they can obtain. Cardinals seek more outfield power. Giants are after a first sacker. Dodgers need a lot of things and the Boston Braves need so many additions one would not know where to start. Pittsburgh is in the market for a catcher and want Rollie Hemisley of St. Louis-Boston wants some of Connie Mack's stars, and the White Sox and Browns want pitchers.

Owen nor Clifton Over in the American league, Detroit wants a third sacker believing neither Owen nor Clifton can fill the slot. Joe McCarthy is ready for a real housecleaning at New York, and the Cleveland Indians, powerful everywhere else, need a catcher and want Rollie Hemisley of St. Louis-Boston wants some of Connie Mack's stars, and the White Sox and Browns want pitchers.

Wes Ferrell Signs Three members of the Tigers team, Rowe, Gehring and Bridges are joining Dizzy Dean and his entourage on a barnstorming tour. Wes Ferrell, former Indian holdout, has already signed his 1936 contract with Boston. It was necessary for Prexy Navin of the Tigers to send out $9,000 "we regret" cards to unsuccessful ticket seekers. Jewish friends of Hank Greenberg are planning to petition Judge Landis to have Yom Kippur, sacred Jewish holiday, declared an open date in the world's series schedule should the Tigers make it.

New Head Coach

Clem Crowe Following the resignation of Joe Meyer as head football coach and athletic director at St. Xavier university, above, line coach since 1932, became head coach. Meyer's resignation note to school officials gave no reason for quitting, but it was believed faculty friction brought about the action. Crowe was captain and All-American of the Notre Dame team of 1925.

SPEARS FACES TEAM TROUBLE AT WISCONSIN

Several Called Meeting for General Walkout; Tommerson to Return

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10.—That there is dissension in the varsity ranks at the University of Wisconsin was verified today when 40 members of the football squad indirectly admitted certain players planned a walkout. The statement read:

"Contrary to an article to the effect that certain members of the Wisconsin football team gathered in a protest meeting, rebelling against Dr. Spears, and considered quitting the squad, we the undersigned have no intention of quitting, are behind Coach Spears to a man, and have all intentions of doing our level best on the football field."

Considered Quitting Five members of the team, it was learned, met and considered a general walkout as the result of the action of Clarence Tommerson, varsity quarterback.

Tommerson announced he "was tired of it all, and didn't want to play any more," after receiving what he believed undue criticism from backfield coach Guy Sundt on his play in the game last Saturday when Marquette handed the Badgers a 33 to 0 beating.

Today, however, after a talk with his parents and with Sundt, Tommerson said he would be back in uniform for the practice session this afternoon.

Quit Last Year Doc Spears experienced similar difficulties last season when three members of his squad, Bill Miller, Eddie Jankowski and Walter Windercker turned in their suits.

Coach Spears took cognizance of the criticism being directed at him by denying reports he planned to resign at the end of the season. "It's all news to me," he said, "I haven't even thought of the matter. I'm too busy trying to get a team ready to play Notre Dame here Saturday."

FRICK MAY FACE LEAGUE DISPUTE

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—There seems to be more than a vague hint that Ford C. Frick will find himself under fire when he comes up against a renewal of his contract late this year as president of the National league. Not a broadside, perhaps; maybe not a fusillade or even a volley. At the moment, in fact, it looks more like some desultory sniping from the rooftops.

One National league club, it is understood, is definitely embittered at Mr. Frick and has suggested that others may feel the same way. But the affairs of the club in question are said to be in a somewhat tangled state and may yet occupy it to the exclusion of all else. One will get anyone ten, by the way, that I'm not talking about the Boston Braves.

HAMRICK IS OUT OF OHIO LINEUP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—Charley Hamrick, Ohio State's 245-pound tackle, today appeared definitely out as a starter in the Drake contest here Saturday.

Hamrick, although in uniform yesterday, did not participate in the Buckeye drill because of a leg injury. Coach Francis Schmidt switched Gil Harre from right tackle to the left side of the line and placed Ernie Roush at right tackle. Roush had been dividing the right tackle duties with Harre who started the Kentucky game. The Buckeyes were sent through a lengthy signal drill. Schmidt handed his charges a few new plays.

Layden and Shakespeare to Help Restore Notre Dame Prestige

Francis (Mike) Layden Restoration of Notre Dame's power on the gridiron may be accomplished this year, according to reports from the South Bend campus, and Francis (Mike) Layden and Bill Shakespeare, halfbacks, are named as important factors in bringing that about. Layden, young brother of Coach Elmer Layden, is regular right halfback. Shakespeare is a splendid runner, kicker and passer.

Minnesota Should Take Nebraska, and Iowa Will Beat Colgate, Is Forecast of Michigan Mentor

By HARRY KIPKE Football Coach, University of Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 10.—Midwest teams will be playing next Saturday on the Atlantic coast, on the Pacific coast and in their own ballparks. And in eleven games to be discussed here, there will be three of unusual interest. Incidentally they should be mighty interesting ball games, too.

The battle of Lincoln between Minnesota and Nebraska, the contest out in Los Angeles when Illinois tangles with Southern California, and that game at Iowa City where Colgate will be entertained by Ossie Solem's Hawkeyes, are the three. Of course that leaves out of consideration the game most important to me—and which is the only contest of the day in which two Big Ten teams will tangle—the Indiana-Michigan game, at Ann Arbor. You know just how large that event looms to me, so we'll let it go at that and give the palm to the other games, all of them intersectional in character.

All eyes will be on the game at Nebraska when last year's national champions go into their first big contest of the year. Nebraska seems headed for another Missouri Valley conference flag, so this of giants has a distinct intersectional flavor. Nebraska has been impressive in its games to date, taking Chicago and Iowa State into camp with ease on successive Saturdays to start the season. Neither of those teams are set-ups. The big Gophers, on the other hand, were not particularly brilliant in their only game to date. People are beginning to wonder whether the loss of all those stars from the 1934 eleven has really taken the power out of the Minnesota machine.

Playing the game in the back lot of the Nebraska boys is not going to make the job the easier for Bierman's warriors. In other words, all the dope seems to point to a Cornhusker victory. But that does not mean that I think they are going to win. Minnesota had a day off last Saturday, but I'll wager the boys weren't all sitting around the radio listening to the world's series. They were more probably out on the gridiron doing a while lot of getting ready. Bierman had four or five great eleven last year. They can't all be gone. Minnesota should still be a powerful team, so I string along with our Big Ten mates to cop this important game.

They'll See Football If I weren't scheduled to be out at the Michigan stadium next Saturday I'd like to be in Los Angeles—and not entirely on account of the climate. There's going to be a real game in that stadium out there. The Californians should win all right, but they will see a lot of football while they're doing it.

Gabby's Grid Guesses

By GABBY GIBBS Famed Football Player and Herald Comic Strip Hero

WELL, SIR, "upset" Saturday has come and gone and your old pal excepted pretty good. I picked 22 winners and only missed out on eight games. For the season that gives me 43 correct guesses and one 11 had ones for a percentage of 796. Not bad, not bad.

Here are next Saturday's big games. I've put the winners first: Alabama-Mississippi State, Alabama-Poly-Tennessee, Army-Gettysburg, Brown-Springfield, California-Oregon, Carnegie Tech-New York, Chicago-Kalamazoo, Columbia-Rutgers, Dartmouth-Bates, Georgia-Furman, Harvard-Holy Cross, Indiana-Michigan, Iowa-Colgate, Kentucky-Georgia Tech, Louisiana-Marshattan, Minnesota-Nebraska, Navy-Virginia, North Carolina-Maryland, Notre Dame-Wisconsin, Ohio State-Drake, Pennsylvania-Yale, Pittsburgh-West Virginia, Princeton-Williams, Purdue-Fordham, Southern California-Illinois, Tulane-Florida, Utah-Montana State, Washington State-Montana.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS AT WASHINGTON: Marty Gallagher, 207, won decision over King Levinsky, 204, Chicago (10). AT OAKLAND, CAL.—Young Peter Jackson, Negro lightweight champion of California, decisioned Gaston Le Cadre of France (10).

ON AIR AT 1:15 The Ohio State university and Drake game will be broadcast over WLW Saturday at 1:45 p. m. with Red Barber at the microphone.

Lindauer cheese is made from sweet milk, the curd being formed into cakes about five inches square and two inches thick and not pressed. The main cause of the putrefactive fermentation is the extremely moist condition in which it is kept.

DRAKE HOPEFUL OF O S U UPSET

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 10.—Scrimmaging hard and with hopes flying at a high peak, the Drake varsity is working overtime in hopes of pulling an upset when the Bulldogs meet Buckeyes Saturday at Columbus. The Bulldogs are preparing their defense against the famed Ohio spinners, by scrimmaging the freshmen who have prepared the Ohio plays.

In the meantime, they have also smoothed out their aerial attack which has been the terror of the midwest during the past few weeks.

With only one vital change in the Drake lineup the team will start as it has in the last two games. George (Wimpy) Setrakian, who played a great game against Simpson, will likely start the game Saturday. Seemingly Setrakian has overcome his one fault that has held him back during the season. After getting past the line of scrimmage, Wimpy had a hard time keeping his feet, but it looks as though Coach Green had ironed out that fault.

Enthusiasm has been running high on the campus, because of the splendid showing against Simpson and Central in scoring decisive victories in both games. This compared with Ohio's poor showing against Kentucky last week, does not make victory look impossible.

BOY, GIRL SCOUTS OHIO STATE GUESTS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—When the Drake and Ohio State university football teams line up Saturday at Ohio Stadium several thousand youngsters will be in the stands cheering for the Bucks.

The University athletic association has invited all Boy and Girl Scouts in the state to be its guests at this contest. While it will be impossible for every scout to attend, officials estimate that several thousand will take advantage of the invitation.

Admission will be by Scout registration card only. These cards are to be presented at the North entrance of the stadium sometime between 12:30 and game time.

VARSLITY LINE IS SHAKEN UP FOR DELAWARE

McGinnis Off Squad; Melson Sent to End, Weaver and Good to Tackle Berths

Delaware's varsity may face an untied line and a veteran backfield Friday when the Tigers travel to the college town for a Central Buckeye league game.

Coach Jack Landrum, from the appearance of the squad Wednesday evening, will use not more than two and possibly one senior in his starting line while the backfield will be comprised entirely of upper-classmen.

McGinnis Off Squad Johnny McGinnis, senior center, has left the squad and his place will probably be taken by Rich Weldon. It is also possible that Junior Ruit, a senior, may get the center call.

At the guards will be two juniors, Merriman and Adams, and at tackle will also be two juniors, Toar Weaver and Millard Good. The ends will probably find Melson and Jackson starting with "Stringbean" Smith, tackling colored youth, ready to take a crack at either wing. Bob Fickard will also be ready and so will Hostler. Melson is the only senior in the gang.

Henry on Cane Don Henry, lefthanded junior back, is the only regular who will not be able to start because of his injuries. His left ankle injury has forced him to remain on a cane all this week.

The starters will be Will Friley at quarter, George Rader, John Jenkins and John Griffith.

Delaware's starting lineup will probably be: Shippis and Fuller at ends; Turney and McKenzie at tackles; Miller and Longhenry at guards; Farahay at center; Cartwright at quarter; Patrick and Wyss at halves, and Vandervort at fullback.

Bishop Sophomore Stars

Upon these sophomores Ohio Wesleyan is basing much of its hope for a victory over Miami in the annual game between these old athletic rivals next Saturday, Oct. 12, at Oxford.

Three of the quintet are ends. They are Fred Schroeder, Cleveland; Lou Banks, Oak Park, Ill., and Jim McKinnie, Delaware. Schroeder is a stalwart on defense while Banks and McKinnie are offensively strong, both being good pass receivers.

The other lads shown here are Dick Smith, Ft. Wayne, Ind., a fullback, and John Nordin, Oak Park, Ill., a tackle.

Victory will mean much to each team. A win would give Miami a tie for the leadership of the Buckeye conference, while a Bishop victory would put Ohio Wesleyan back in the running after its 13 to 0 defeat at the hands of Dayton U., baby member of the conference.

Loses Aduwa Post

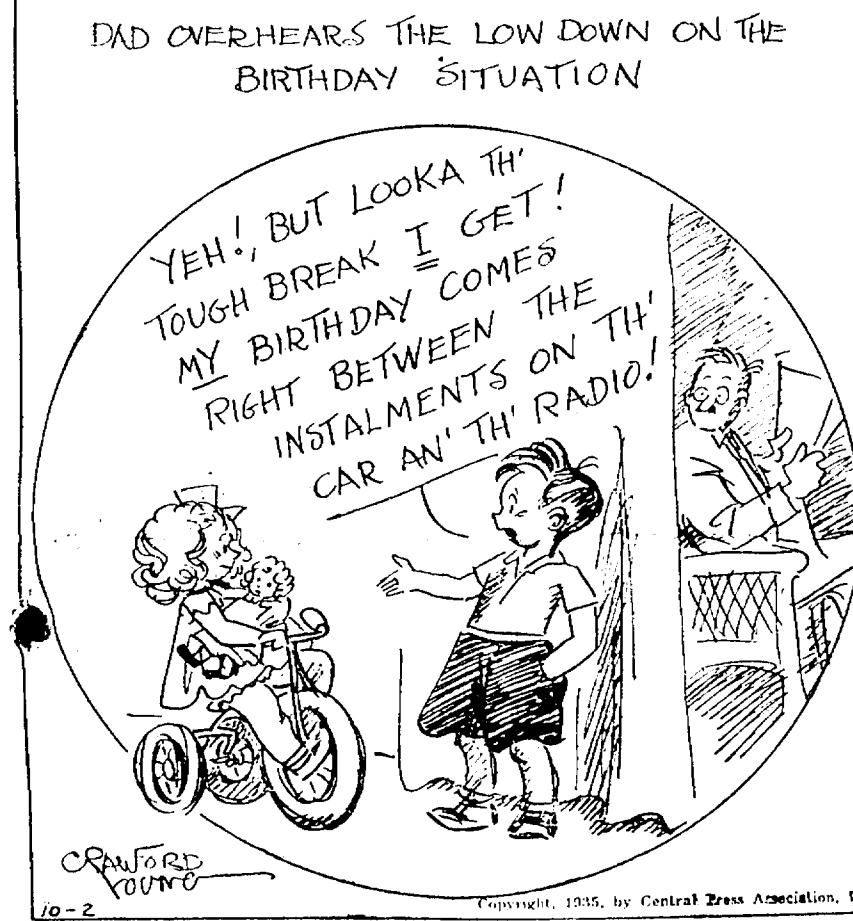

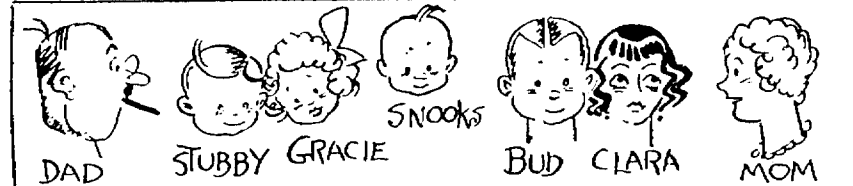

Because he repeatedly refused Emperor Haile Selassie's orders to evacuate Aduwa and fall back with his Ethiopian troops to a more strategic defense position, Ras Seyoum, above, governor of Aduwa, was relieved of his post. Ethiopia strategy calls for guerrilla warfare instead of an open stand against Italian invaders.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with nearly amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

ADMITS POISONING FRIEND'S WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Creighton and Everett Applegate

Mrs. Frances Creighton of Baldwin, L. I., who, according to authorities, has confessed poisoning Mrs. Ada Applegate so that her 15-year-old daughter, Ruth, could marry the dead woman's husband, Everett Applegate, is shown with her husband, above. The Applegates and Creightons lived together. The men were American Legion "buddies". Applegate, inset, has been held on a statutory charge involving the Creightons daughter.

p. m., when it will hear the representatives of Ethiopia and Chile.

After Austria and Hungary served notice yesterday that their economic interests and friendship with Italy were more important than the League covenant, and therefore they voted against sanctions, no other voice was heard today in support of Italy.

Switzerland, however, asked special exemption from applying either economic or military sanctions, and such nations as Poland, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, and Albania are expected to ask exemptions in varying degree from the joint coordinating sanctions.

The strongest speech yet heard in the assembly room was that of General Nemours of Haiti.

Warning that "what the league does now will create a precedent for the future," the colored speaker said "the situation is perfectly clear, and Haiti will back the league."

"The same red blood runs from a wounded man, whether he be black or white," he went on.

"Haiti, a small republic of colored people, symbolizes the equality of the races."

Stating Russia would "honor her engagements," Ambassador Poyemkine urged "unity of action, as the best means to liquidate the conflict, which harms all states and menaces humanity."

The Mexican delegate said his country "associates itself with this action, and hopes that the league, by collective measures, will end the African conflict."

PLACED ON PROBATION

William Coates, Williamsport, recently sentenced to 60 days in the Cincinnati workhouse on a charge of non-support by H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, has been placed on probation, Mr. Eveland announced Thursday morning.

The House Finance committee was met today at 10 a. m. and began consideration of a new bill. However, their work may be for nothing in event that the House proper decides not to reconsider the bill. Leaders expressed conviction that the House would reconsider the bill and send it back to the Finance committee.

told this theater cost about $18,000 to build at that time. Think what it would cost to construct a similar building now.

"The opera house changed hands many times in the years following its construction up until 1911 when I leased it for five years. I bought the theater in 1916. The first motion pictures were shown in 1917."

Recalls Best Joke

One of the best jokes ever "pulled" in the theater, according to Mr. Baughman, was the act of a workman years ago when the show "The Naiad Queen" was sponsored by the local Episcopal church.

Pictures and tools for the scenery were sent in by the company in a large steel enforced trunk. A large group of men, helping in the church production, had assembled at the theater to erect the scenery. One of the workmen opened the trunk and thoughtlessly put the key inside and closed the top. A locksmith opened the trunk the following day and up until the time of the first act hammers were banging backstage.

Aside from his record in the show business in Circleville Mr. Baughman has been an active worker in many lodges, social organizations and in civic activities.

Mr. Baughman was born and reared in Circleville and his birth date is in the year 1871.

The Herald congratulates Mr. Baughman on his golden anniversary in the theater business in Circleville.
